

REMARKS

Applicants note that the discussion of the Reasons for Allowability in the Notice of Allowance recites lengthy portions of the claims, and provides discussion of the cited references. To the extent that anything in the Reasons for Allowability is interpreted as a characterization of the cited references, or a characterization of Applicants' claims, Applicants do not concede to such interpretations, and reserve the right to challenge such interpretations.

Applicants respectfully submit that the prosecution history of the case sets forth the arguments discussed leading up to allowance of the claims, and sets forth the features relied upon for patentability over the cited references. The statements in the Reasons for Allowability should be interpreted as consistent with the prosecution history, and not as changing or adding to the prosecution history.

Respectfully submitted,
